Join us for a practical, comprehensive overview of native prairie restoration for land stewards dedicated to conserving and restoring these vital ecosystems.

Our experts will equip you with the knowledge, resources, and networks you need, starting with the fundamental question – Why restore? We will then guide you through the critical processes of implementation, maintenance, outcome management, and the support available to you.

To cap off the day, we invite you to a Social Hour, where you can visit with our expert speakers and meet your Texas Parks and Wildlife Department (TPWD) County Biologists—an excellent opportunity to network and personalize your experience.
